Dear Mr. President,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to share with you a vision that I believe aligns closely with the sustainable and scalable energy management principles that are vital to our nation's future. This vision is embodied in the concept of New Age Cybernetics (NAC), which provides a framework for understanding and managing energy—both in the literal and metaphorical sense—at multiple scales.

New Age Cybernetics is fundamentally about creating systems that can adapt and scale, ensuring that as we grow—from local initiatives to national infrastructure—we maintain a sustainable balance of resources. By establishing a clear baseline of our energy needs and flows—whether those energies are electrical, economic, or even social and civic—we can identify where we need to reinforce our systems and where we can optimize existing resources.

In essence, NAC fulfills the needs of a scalable and sustainable approach by offering a structured yet flexible framework. It allows us to look at our national infrastructure and see where energy is in need, where it is in flux, and where additional resources are required. By doing so, we can create a resilient, adaptable, and forward-looking system that supports not just our current needs, but the needs of future generations.

Thank you for considering this perspective. I believe that with your leadership, we can integrate the principles of New Age Cybernetics into our national strategy for a more sustainable and adaptable future.

Sincerely,
Joseph A. Sprute
